Commerce Department Reaches New High In Registration

Jaysee's commerce department boasted of an enrollment of 320 students today, the largest in the history of that department.

George B. Holmes, head of the commerce department, stressed the fact that this figure will probably increase during the year, as the work is arranged so that students may enter classes at any time, and every student proceeds at his own rate of speed and ability.

Mr. Holmes said that students who are properly trained and experienced in their work have little trouble getting positions. An effort is made to assist every worthy student in securing employment upon completion of the course, he concluded.

Secretary Returns To Office Duties

Mrs. Violet Bartholomew returned to the jaysee office yesterday for a few hours, and is planning to resume her secretarial duties by gradual degrees.

The jaysee secretary is recovering from an appendectomy performed recently. She has been confined to her home for the past month.

Journalism Society Pledges Named

Betty Frye, Mary Mulhall, and Carroll Richardson were this week pledged to membership in Beta Phi Gamma, honorary journalism society.

Plans for attending the national convention of the organization at Santa Barbara will be discussed at a meeting of the local chapter Monday. The convention is to be held at Santa Barbara State College next Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Office Will Check NYA Grades

In two weeks a check will be made to determine who will be dropped from N.Y.A. rolls. Students who are dropped may be reinstated Jan. 8 if their work shows sufficient improvement, Dean of Men Calvin C. Flint said today.

SPORTS, SCHOLARSHIP?

(An Editorial)

Ineligibility of a few players on the football squad brings up the old question of athletics and scholarship.

Time was when it didn't make too much difference whether or not a player made passing marks or even attended classes. But the picture is different today. Now we are confronted with a deeper problem.

No longer is a college divided into two different "classes"—the athletes and students. In order to be an athlete, a person must be a "student."

Morale of the squad should be considered by each individual athlete. If college authorities permit one person to become eligible who in reality is undeserving, then

Patrons Seek New Members

Plan Art Tea For First Meeting

Following the annual membership drive conducted each fall, plans were underway today by the College Patrons' association for its first public meeting of the year to welcome new members into the organization. The initial affair will be in the form of an art tea scheduled for Nov. 16.

According to Mrs. Howard Timmons, president of the patrons' group, arrangements are being made to help supply clothing, books, medical aid, and lunches for needy students as was done last year.

RAISE FUNDS

Approximately $250 was raised for this purpose last term in addition to securing student loan scholarships for three students.

A feature of the Nov. 16 tea will be an exhibition of art work and Christmas card designs created by local students, Mrs. Timmons said. The meeting will be held in the college art bungalow, Sycamore and Church streets, from 3 to 5 p.m.

'Swing' Band Pays At Next Assembly

As the result of popular demand, a 12 piece "swing" band led by Delmar Taylor has been secured for the assembly Wednesday it was announced today by Roy Potter, commissioner of assemblies. Sixth period will be omitted.

Potter expressed the desire that students make known their choices of popular songs, and also whether or not they would like to have a community sing at the assembly. If enough interest is shown a ballot will be taken among Associated Students.

Future assemblies will include skits put on by various clubs, the annual King's day, and a program put on by the music department.

Play Leads Picked By Drama Class

Ruth Rimel and Wally Grigg have been selected for the leads in the one-act play to be presented in connection with the dramatic cantata, "Trial by Jury," it was announced today by Ernest Crozier Phillips, head of the drama department.

Aileen English, Garth Benjamin, and Vera Scott also have parts in the play to be given early in December.

Five other one-act plays have been selected for production later in the year, Mr. Phillips stated.

Jaysee Editors Get Stanford Posts

Appointment of Vic Rowland and Franklin Guthrie, former jaysee students, to the staff of the Stanford Daily at Stanford university, was learned here today. The men were selected as copy-readers in competition with 83 university journalists.

Rowland served as El Don editor last year, winning All-American honors with his streamlined makeup. Guthrie held the posts of sports editor and advertising manager while majoring here in journalism.

OBITUARY

We regret to announce today that the junior college flashlight section has passed away.

Started last year with great expectations, the section faded out of the picture last Friday as the result of a combination of ailments. Lack of cooperation and not enough student interest were given as the causes by leaders of the group.

Faculty Chooses Honor Group

Chosen from students with superior scholastic standing, 19 local scholars today held membership in Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society.

According to Miss Lella Watson, Santa Ana chapter adviser, the members selected this week by faculty election are:

COMPLETE LIST

Herschel Albrecht, Josephine Butler, Evelyn Eltiste, Betty Frye, Marjorie Gommel, Warren Hall, Alma Mae Hiatt, Phyllis Kogler, Isamu Masuda, Bette Ann Munson.

Betty Neff, Carroll Richardson, Theodore Rischard, Irene Simon, Velma Sise, Juanita Stanfield, Marjorie Vollmer, sophomores; Lyndon Carmen and Robert Gilman, post-graduates.

Selections were made from students completing one semester's work with at least a B plus average, or two semesters with at least a B average, Miss Watson said.

Elections for membership in the society are held each semester.

Student Breaks Arm In Automobile Accident

Wally Grigg, freshman, received a broken right arm in an accident occurring Saturday night. A car operated by James Conlin crashed into the rear of the Grigg machine.

Conlin was jailed on a drunk driving charge, according to local police. The accident happened near the Santa Ana Country club.

Three City Clubs To Honor Squad

Members of the jaysee football team will be honored by three Santa Ana service clubs at a banquet to be held Wednesday noon, Nov. 16. This was the announcement made today by the club officials.

CLUBS UNITE

The celebration will be held in the Masonic temple, Fifth and Sycamore streets, at 12:15. Arrangements for the affair are being completed by members of the Rotary, Lions, and Kiwanis clubs.

Coach Bill Cook and John Ward are expected to give short talks, as are Co-Captains John Joseph and Larry Timken.

INVITE HIGH SCHOOL

Members and coaches of the Santa Ana High School football squad will also be honored at the luncheon it was learned this morning.

Deficiency Notices Out This Week

Subjects in the local science department claim the majority of 250 deficiency notices being issued to wavering students this week and next, college officials said today.

Should more than one notice be issued to a student, duplicates will be mailed to parents, it was stated.

Deficiency notices are distributed before quarterly and final examinations, informing students that their work is below average.

Local 'Jitterbugs' Win In Contest

"Jitterbugs" Ester Belle Christman and Maxie Moore are leaders of the jaysee swingsters today by virtue of their victory in a "rug-cutting" contest during the Anaheim Hallowe'en celebration Friday.

The couple won third honors in the contest, in competition with 20 other dance teams. They were awarded a cash prize of $1.

Send Five To AWS-WAA Conference

Hold Two-Day Meet In Pasadena Hotel

Jaysee will send five delegates to the annual district conference of Women's Athletic associations and Associated Women Students' organizations, it was stated today by Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, dean of women.

The conference, which will be held at Hotel Vista del Arroyo in Pasadena, begins today and will last until tomorrow afternoon.

JAYSEE DELEGATES

Santa Ana delegates are Juanita Stanfield, W. A. A. representative and general chairman of the athletic discussion group; Barbara Speed, president of the A. W. S.; Anna May Archer, vice-president of the A. W. S.; Miss Zena Leck, W. A. A. adviser; and Mrs. Northcross.

Principle concern of the gathering will be the problems which arise among college students. Dr. Aurelia Rhinehart, president of Mills college, will speak on the subject of "Women Students in This Changing World."

ASILOMAR SPEAKER

"Off to Work We Go" will be the topic of an address by Miss Maxine Heasley of the Walt Disney studios. The third guest speaker is Mrs. Marion Reif, national student secretary from the Asilomar district, who will discuss the advantages and activities of the Asilomar conference.

Piloteers Plan Trip To Resort Soon

Piloteers are completing plans for a week-end trip to Arrowhead, today stated Merle Swingle, club president. The trip will be made as soon as snow is reported at the resort.

The club intends to adopt special stationery with the club name on it in Old English letters, said Miss Swingle.

YWCA Holds Supper Monday Evening

Members of the Y. W. C. A. will meet at a pot-luck supper to be held next Monday at the home of Doris Howell in Orange at 5:30 p. m., today announced Stella Christ, president of the organization.

Following a brief business meeting, those who attend will continue work on red and black pom-poms which the Y. W. C. A. plans to sell for the football games, Miss Christ said.

"An attempt is being made to have some pom-poms ready to sell for the next game, although our primary aim is to have them on sale at the Fullerton game on Nov. 24," it was stated by Miss Christ.

St. Paul, Minn., courts and charitable institutions will serve as the laboratory for College of St. Thomas sociology students.

LEADS LAS MENINAS

Tell Preparations For AWS Dance

Junior college women will get a chance to reverse the date situation, if they attend the A. W. S. dance on Saturday, Nov. 12, Barbara Speed, president of the Associated Women students, announced today. The annual affair is to be held at the Legion hall in Huntington Beach.

Girls make all the arrangements for the affair, and do the inviting, Miss Speed said. The dance will be semi-formal.

Ticket prices are 25 cents a couple for Associated Students and 75 cents for couples if the man is not a jaysee student.

Girls who wish to invite outsiders should bring the names of their guests before the executive board today, Miss Speed stated.

Study Group Meets At Nealley Home

Nearly 30 students are planning to attend the philosophy discussions at the home of E. M. Nealley, retired philosophy instructor, this Sunday at 2:15, according to Dr. Kyle A. Lyon, jaysee instructor.

Mr. Nealley plans to address the groups at least twice each month. Informal discussions will be conducted concerning any problems of philosophy or psychology.

Dr. Lyon expressed a hope that many students would take an interest in the discussions and pointed out that Mr. Nealley is an authority in his field.

Jaysee Graduates, College Cost Discussed By Stanford Dean

By GLORIA KIRCHNER

"Junior college graduates are a good lot on the whole" stated Miss Mary Yost, Stanford University dean of women, when she visited the local campus this week.

"By the time they have completed two years of undergraduate work and have transferred on to a university, they have been pretty well weeded out, and have settled down to the business of getting a real education," she said.

JAYSEE STUDENTS ASSIST

Both Miss Yost's secretary and first assistant are graduates of junior colleges. Her opinion is that there is not much difference in transfers from junior colleges and four-year students, as fundamentally their aims are the same.

Of the 4000 students now attending Stanford, about 1200 are women students. When asked about the opportunities for employment, Miss Yost said that the best jobs to be had were those "hashing," as $133 a quarter can be earned in this way from working two and a half hours a day.

POPULAR COURSE

One of the most popular courses now being given at Stanford is "Problems in the Modern World," Miss Yost said. The course which deals with the adjustment of the individual to the business world, the home and family, started a few years ago as "Women in the Modern World," but because of popular demand was made into a class for both men and women.

Miss Yost has been at Stanford University for 17 years. Her main duties are to promote the good of women at the university both as a group and as individuals. She makes policies for all the students, and the whole dormitory plan is under her direction. Vocational guidance and advice in all student activities are also her jobs.

IDEAL DEAN

A serene, poised, sweet woman, with dark hair and eyes, conservative with good taste, a soft, pleasant voice, and above all a nature that invites confidence—Miss Yost is the ideal dean of women.

When asked the cost of attending Stanford, Miss Yost stated that about $1000 a year would be the right amount for a girl. This amount could be partly earned by hashing and N. Y. A. work, but women are advised against working the first year they attend the university.

"SORORITIES UNNECESSARY"

In reply to questions about sororities and fraternities, Miss Yost stated, "In my opinion, they have outlived their use. They used to be necessary because of housing conditions, but the dormitories we now have are just as well facilitated, and in some cases are more so."

CAME THE DON

By BETTY FRYE

Here is the dope on the latest of the Greek letter societies. Brother meets brother.

First brother: "Do you belong to the club?"

Second brother: "What club?"

First: "Why, Damma Phi No." And you may quote that bit of wit to June Holman.

Service stations did a rushing business, at least in questions and answers, when the Tavern Tattlers traveled to Pasadena this week.

It seems that no one in at least two of the cars were quite sure of the road to the Pasadena playhouse. And later, on the way back. The record in elapsed time was a mere two hours for the trip.

Incidentally, the play was "To varich," and it helps if you sneeze on the last syllable.

MOAVS

Moavs will meet on Monday, Nov. 14, at the home of Vera Scott in Irvine, President Margie Brown stated today. This is the first regular business meeting at which newly elected members will be present.

Miss Brown urged all members to attend the meeting in order to choose the club pin.

Mildred Tucker, Dorothy Flaherty, and Barbara Lowary will serve as members of the refreshment committee to assist the hostess.

Henderson Terms Prospects Poor

Developments on the college campus project remained at a standstill today following action of the local board of education last week in tabling the proposition until a more opportune time might arise to revive the proposal.

According to school administrators nothing more will be done now until some word is received from government officials indicating that an extension of time will be given applicants seeking federal aid. Under the present setup, the jaysee trustees hope to receive at least $300,000 to help finance a building fund here.

STATEMENT GIVEN

In explaining the recent action of the board of education, Supt. F. A. Henderson today issued the following statement for publication in El Don:

"The board of education discussed the problem, which still faces the community, of providing for the needs of the junior college. The increase of about 16 per cent in junior college enrollment has made the situation more critical than ever and every available inch of classroom space is in use.

HOPE STILL SEEN

"The board discussed the petitions containing some 1170 names, which had been filed, requesting the calling of another election. Attention was called to a letter from the state director of the P. W. A. indicating that he could offer very little encouragement toward the securing of federal funds. It was pointed out, however, that the application is still active and is receiving the attention of federal authorities.

"It is possible that even yet the appropriation will be made to be matched by funds provided by the local community. If federal funds do become available the board of education will give consideration to the calling of another election.

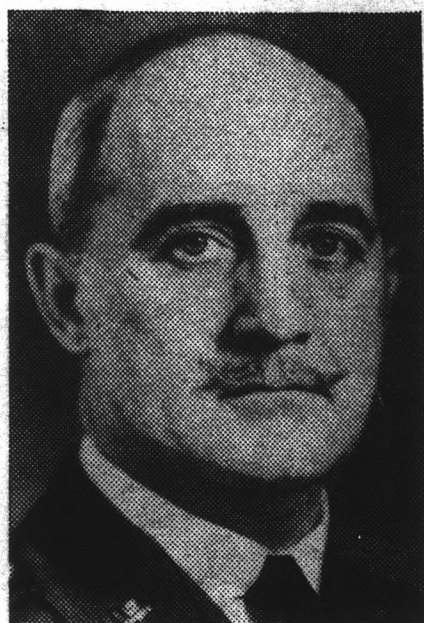

"There are only two requirements in the law, namely, the filing of applications for federal funds on or before Sept. 30, which was done, and, when appropriation is made, the starting of construction by Jan. 1. This latter date cannot be met and our representatives feel that Congress, when it meets, may extend that date."

Dinner Honors Two Former Students

Jack Gardner and Oscar Liefers, former jaysee editors who are now attending U.S.C., were honored guests at a dinner party held by local journalists Wednesday evening. Both men are now on the University staff of the Daily Trojan.

Gardner and Liefers, who served as sports and feature editors of El Don last year, were among a group of seven to enjoy the dinner. They included Ed Velarde, El Don editor; Bob Warren, circulation manager; Jack Reed, printing assistant; Thomas E. Williams, printing instructor; and John H. McCoy, journalism director.

INTENDED VICTIM

COL. H. W. T. EGLIN, U. S. A., commander of Fort Totten and the sixty-second coast artillery at New York, who, according to federal agents, was to be the intended victim of a spy plot and was to be kidnapped to a New York hotel where he was to bring certain secret documents dealing with the defense of New York City. The plot was never attempted, although three spies were arrested and held by federal authorities.

OK Club Members Hold First Outing

With entertainment and refreshments furnished by members, the O. K. club held its first outing of the year at Santiago park last night. "The food and program made the event sponsored for the out of state students of the college a success," stated Mary Malcom, vice president.

Miss Mary Malcom announced that a great part of the semester club dues had been paid, and urged all those who had not yet paid theirs to do so immediately. Dues for the club are 50 cents a semester.

The club officers for the coming semester are Fred Beecher, president; Mary Wilkinson, secretary; and Miss Malcom, vice-

Deadline Set For Post Contributions

Nov. 14 has been set as the deadline for all Tavern Post contributions, editor Herschel Albrecht announced today. The material should be given to an English instructor or to a member of the staff, said Albrecht.

The magazine will be distributed in the early part of December, Carroll Richardson, business manager, stated.

Tavern Post staff members are Albrecht, editor; Marjorie Vollmer and June Holman, associate editors; Josephine Butler, art editor; and Richardson, business manager.

T. H. Glenn, English instructor is adviser to the group. Thomas E. Williams will direct the printing.

Newman Club Plans Wednesday Rites

Initiation of 40 prospective members of the newly organized Newman club will be held in St. Joseph's parish hall at Stafford and Lacy streets at 7:30 p. m. next Wednesday, it was announced today by Jack Murphy, president of the organization. The rites will be conducted by a group of members from various Newman clubs in Los Angeles.

Three standing committees were adopted by the club members at the meeting this week. Members of committees are: arrangements—Mary Ann Low, Cecilia Telef, and Ruth De Gunther; publicity—Don Schmock, and Bernard Hart; and refreshments—Tom Engelman, Russell Langenbeck, Bernard Hart, and Jack Murphy.

The officers, with the aid and sponsorship of Miss Dorothy Decker, will plan the activities of the club for the remainder of the semester.

The University of Colorado this fall is offering a two-year course for the 53 per cent who spend only that amount of time in college.

LOCAL NEWSMEN WRITE 10,000 WORDS WEEKLY

37 Students Enrolled In Newswriting Class Produce El Don Stories Each Week

By LYDIA ELLIOTT

Fighting that eternal deadline, reporters on El Don pounded out 9514 words for their issue last week. This is an average of 1252 words for each of the six pages.

An average of 2757 words per page are used in the paper, exclusive of advertisements. This does not include the thousands of words which are written, but never see daylight on a printed page.

37 REPORTERS

There are 37 reporters working on the paper, so that each must average 257 words per week, or 80 words a day for the tri-weekly classes.

Writing 80 words a day is, in itself, a comparatively simple assignment, but one often will write two or three times that amount before getting any printed.

HEADLINE WRITERS

Last week's headlines contained 386 words. Nine students work on heads, and arrange the makeup each week.

Today another six-page paper comes out. This one entailed work equal in amount to last week's, and next week's will be the same, with perhaps one exception. Each one gets a little harder as it goes along, for the mistakes of preceding weeks have to be studied and corrected.

You have to work and like it to stick, all journalism students realize. But those who enjoy writing have no complaint. They expect to hammer out their assignments every week, whether they be 50 or 500 words.

Alumni Depart As Homecoming Ends

Only memories remained today of the inaugural annual Homecoming week for jaysee alumni held last week-end.

Highlight of Homecoming week was the Santa Ana-San Berdoo game held Friday evening at the Municipal bowl.

DONS STALK TIGER AT RIVERSIDE TONIGHT

NOW IS THE TIME . . . for all good men to stick with the grid squad. Despite last week's score, you and I know that the Dons can get in there and pitch when the going is tough. It was a privilege to witness such a clean-cut but savage battle.

FLASH! Don Borden who was reported to have been on his way to Florida has decided to remain here. He will see action tonight if his injured ankle permits.

DID YOU KNOW? . . . that our line out-played the Indian forward wall? . . . that the locals out-gained the Braves in power plays? . . . that short-enders are giving the Dons a crack at the title providing someone beats San Berdoo twice, Fullerton twice, and Chaffey twice? . . . Oh well, it was fun while it lasted.

Perhaps some cheer can be gained from the letter from Los Angeles City College which lauds the sportsmanship of the red and black varsity. It reads:

"Dear Tom: I see by your Oct. 21 paper that the Dons have been accused of dirty playing. I don't know where the charges originated, but would like to say this: "In your game with the Los Angeles City College Cubs, I didn't hear one word, from players, coaches, or fans against your sportsmanship. From where I sat in the stands, it looked like a hard-fought, clean game, and although I am not sure that the best team won, it would certainly be impossible to charge the Dons with dirty playing.

"It is too bad that teams can't meet twice during the season. You're probably just as sure that Santa Ana could repeat their one touchdown victory as I am the Cubs could reverse it. However, you have all the weight on your side as you can point to the score. "At any rate thanks for the hospitality you showed me and my staff. Good luck in the rest of your games.

Yours truly,
LEW GARRETT
Sports Editor, L. A. Collegian

Team Given Water Wagon

Will Be Here For Chaffey Clash

By BOB GRIFFITH
It's here at last!

Don Jerome, chairman of the Lions club water wagon committee, announced today that a water-wagon will be given the Dons in time for the Chaffey game scheduled for Armistice day, Nov. 11, in the Municipal bowl.

The wagon will be of the conventional type with 10 gallon pressure tank, four or five rubber tubes for dispensing water and will have two or three rubber tired wheels.

WELL EQUIPPED

It will be equipped with safety valves, air pressure gauges, and a tray on the top for bandages, resin, and other football paraphernalia.

The machine will weigh less than 100 pounds and will be small enough to be easily transported in the bus to games away from home.

HAS MANY USES

One important advantage of the new wagon is that it will not be used entirely for football games. It can be used for afternoon football practice, basketball, track, or any other sport where milk bottles have been used.

Credit for the machine is due Dale Decker, George Tobias, and Jack Hanna, members of the Lion committee, for their work in securing the wagon for the college.

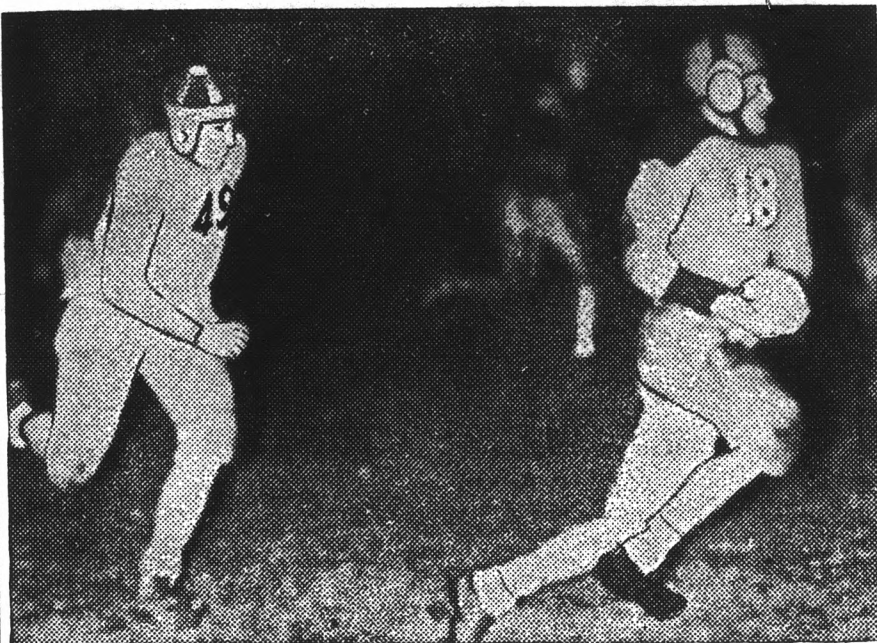

Expect Additional Football Entries

Football guessers continue their bids today for prizes offered by the Salad Bowl and Sun Cleaners as the grid season reaches its height. The winner of this week's contest will not be announced until Friday, Nov. 18, because El Don will not publish next Friday, Armistice day.

INDIANS AMBUSH 'PONY' EXPRESS ON 11

DICK SAUNDERS, Don fullback, is seen breaking loose for a 25-yard gain which landed deep in San Bernardino territory late in the fourth quarter in the Santa Ana-Brave tilt last week. Saunders eluded everyone but the safety man who nailed him on the Indian 11-yard line. The 13-0 defeat was the first conference loss in two years for the Cookmen. (Cut courtesy the Register).

Women Cagers Split Twin-Bill With Fullerton Hoopsters

Coming through with a last half rally the local WAA second stringers defeated the Fullerton JC women, Wednesday night on the Fullerton court by a score of 20-16. The Santa Ana first team suffered a 44-22 defeat at the hands of the Fullerton varsity.

The Santa Ana victory came as a result of a last half scoring spree by Geiger, local forward who tossed in 5 points to complete the final score.

The air tight defense presented by McInnis, McBeath and Elliott held the Fullerton team to 16 points in the first half and did not allow any scoring in the last half.

The local women's varsity was outclassed but not out-fought by the sharp shooting Fullerton aggregation, who scored 28 points in the first half and 16 in the final period.

Locals Prepare For Armistice Battle

After being outfought and out-passed last week by the San Bernardino Braves 13-0, the local eleven is bearing down for the Armistice day battle with league-leading Chaffey to be held at the Municipal bowl, Nov. 11, in the evening.

If the locals can perfect an effective pass defense, they will go on the field on even terms with the strong Panthers from Ontario.

Cookmen, Bengals Tangle At 7:30

By ED COX

Riverside's powerful Tigers block the Don comeback trail tonight as Coach Bill Cook sends his Don eleven onto the Riverside turf at 7:30.

The two "hard-luck" teams of the conference, rated tops in pre-season dope, find themselves out of the championship picture.

RIVERSIDE IN CELLAR

The Tigers have dropped three successive heart-breaking games. Chaffey defeated the Bengals 2-0 in their opener, then Fullerton won 7-6 on an intercepted pass. San Bernardino, the team that beat off the Dons last week, won from Riverside 6-0 on a pair of long passes as the first half ended.

In each of their games, the Bengals have rolled up a statistical advantage over their opponents only to lose by the barest of margins.

DON RECORD BETTER

Santa Ana, in comparison, defeated Citrus, tied Pomona, and lost to San Bernardino 13-0. With still a mathematical chance for the crown, the Dons will be fighting to win, and the game can be rated only a toss-up.

Coaches Cook and Ward will open the game with a lineup of Captain Johnny Joseph and Jim Nunez at ends, Cy Leivermann and Gil Nehrig at tackles, Guards Dal Mickelwait and Pete Kotlar, and Jack Lentz at center.

START MONROY, STAFFORD

Backfield men will probably be Larry Monroy at quarter, Rollie Beck and "Chuck" Stafford at halfbacks and either Dick Saunders, Co-captain Larry Timken or Art Heinisch at full.

Riverside possesses several players of all-conference ability. Quarterback Frank Boyd, the Bengals' best back, runs, passes and kicks with the league's best. Against San Bernardino, he averaged 55 yards on four successful kicks.

TIGER THREAT

Fullback Woody Ross, pound ball-carrier, does most of the Bengals' line plunging and a good reputation as a blocker.

STELLAR END

CO-CAPTAIN JOHNNY JOSEPH who starred on the '37 squad was out part of this season with a serious shoulder injury. He got back in the lineup to star in several games. Opposing backs find him a thorn in the side on defensive play, and his offensive ability wins the admiration of grid fans.

DON FULLBACK

CO-CAPTAIN LARRY TIMKEN is a constant threat to opposition because of his amazing broken field running and drive. He is being heralded as All-Southern Cal caliber by all who see him in action. His powerful kicking and hard blocking have paved the way for a championship combination.

Sports, Scholarship?

others will be justified in wondering why a blanket eligibility should not be made.

To our way of thinking, the eligibility requirements should be made even more stringent than they are at present.

Here is a short resume of the current Eastern conference rules governing eligibility: (1) A player must have passed (which is a D grade) in 11½ units the previous semester; (2) He must be passing in at least 12 units of work during the season; (3) After six weeks, an eligibility list is certified, and the player is eligible the rest of the season. It is understood, of course, that the player has registered legitimately.

In other words, all a student theoretically has to do is to attend classes regularly, and to merely get a D grade. Any student who cannot accomplish that shouldn't even be allowed to don a suit. Furthermore, no college can be assured that another college will see that its players live up to these rules.

At present, it is up to the individual jaysees to see that athletes are eligible. This is as it should be, and the various colleges in the conference should have faith in one another's veracity.

But another angle presents itself, and one which is more important from the standpoint of the individual college. If a player is considering his college, and the players on the team, he should make every effort to make himself eligible. It isn't too difficult a task.

Morale of a squad can easily be lowered by ineffective eligibility rules. No coach wants on his squad, players who cannot pass the lowest minimum requirements.

The solution then, as we see it, is for stricter eligibility requirements. This would tend to keep the morale at a higher plane, and lend added prestige to the players as a whole.

Light Section No More

The flashlight section is no more.

What started out to be one of the college's outstanding student cooperative movements, has flopped.

At one time, students were enthusiastic about the project. When the idea was first conceived, all sorts of cooperation was forthcoming. Just when new ideas were being thought up, cooperation fizzled out.

At last Friday's game, leaders of the section requested the public address announcer to let the people know the reason why no performance was given. About 10,000 persons heard that announcement, including many out-of-town people. And what a thing for these people to hear—that because of the lack of cooperation by Santa Ana Junior college students, this widely-known project was cancelled.

We feel sympathetic toward the organizers and members of service clubs who have given much time and effort toward making it a success. But without the right kind of cooperation from students such a project cannot succeed.

Journalism vs. Literature

Speaking for journalism against literature, W. P. Crozier, editor of The Manchester Guardian (England) said in February of this year:

"In my opinion if you want to find lucid, direct English, well expressed without any of the heavy, awkward, cumbrous words that infest so much of book-writing, you will find it in the popular newspapers of the present time.

"I take journalism broadly as a whole, and put its case against literature in certain respects. I notice that when people talk about literature or art or sculpture they talk about them at their best. When they talk about journalism they tend to take the worst.

"It is unjust that journalism should be judged by its slums and tenements, and literature by its fine mansions and noble monuments."

Was Rope Artist, Actor, Radio Star, Columnist OBSERVE ROGERS BIRTHDATE

Today is Will Rogers' birthday. Everyone remembers Will. It was at 8:18 p. m. two years ago last August 15 that a red, low-winged plane containing two men suddenly crashed from a low altitude into the cold wastes of the arctic wilderness. Will Rogers was dead.

William Penn Adair Rogers, part Cherokee Indian, was born and raised in the old Indian territory just outside of what is now Claremore, Oklahoma.

FAME EARLY

Gaining early fame with his proficiency with a lariat, Rogers soon landed a job with a "wild west" show, billed as "The Cherokee Kid."

A rather loose education supplied him with a variety of quips for the stage and he rapidly became the featured attraction of the show. Soon the title became "Will Rogers and Company."

COMMENTS LIKED

As a world famous personage, Rogers never lost that simple, sincere, wholesome, humor which amused royalty as well as beggars. There was never a president who escaped a Rogers comment, and everyone liked him for it.

Radio, his greatest field, increased his popularity vastly. No political speech ever received as much attention as a Will Rogers summary of the international situation. Kings, presidents, dictators, revolutionists—none remained in the dark if Rogers desired to publicize them, and no one could pay a more sincere tribute to a man than could Will Rogers.

"REMARKS" POPULAR

"Will Rogers' remarks," a syndicated column, was reputed to have the greatest reader circulation of any published in the world. His last remarks, published just before his last flight, were printed in nearly every publication in existence. He was mourned by everyone; everyone knew Will Rogers.—DON MOZLEY

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

An electric scoreboard was set up in Municipal bowl. It was donated by the Santa Ana 20-30 club.

Riverside lost to the Dons 21-6.

THREE YEARS AGO

Thirty-four geology students started on a four-day field trip to the Mojave desert.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Lamb, graduates of Santa Ana Junior college, left San Diego in a canoe on a voyage that was to take them around Cape Horn.

Del Ano received a first class honor rating in the National Press association contest, earning 870 out of a possible 1000 points.

Is Contest Winner Hobby Valuable

A hobby which has netted a silver fox fur scarf, a $75 wrist watch, an Electrolux refrigerator, and an award of $500 is the profitable pastime of Mrs. Bertha Crane, special junior college student.

Since Mrs. Crane began competing in national and local contests six years ago, she has won two nation-wide first prizes and

Tells of Armistice RECALL WAR END

"... von Salow." Amid tensile silence the pen's scratching stopped. Captain von Salow of the Imperial German navy stepped back from the table, stared grimly through the window at the forest outside.

Half an hour later the wires to Paris, to the State office, to London, were suddenly busy. To the part of France where millions still struggled with death came the order—"Hostilities will cease."

In Paris there was uneasiness and a rumor "Hostilities will cease..." and in London and New York and Berlin there was the same insistent rumor.

NEWS TOLD WORLD

Out in the void that was the French eastern border a blue span danced under the hand of a grinning, one-eyed news correspondent. He was telling the world of the Armistice. The news was a signal for pandemonium.

Captain von Salow, as he stepped back after signing the Armistice, might well have been grinning. In two months his world had been destroyed; he had signed its death warrant.

FOCH GIVES TREATY

Marshal Foch, head of the allies, dictated an armistice the morning; it was for the German to accept or refuse. They were to have 72 hours in which to decide.

Monday morning, November 11 at 5 a. m. von Salow, last of the signers, released millions of men from the possibility of joining to million of their comrades in Valhalla. The war was over.—B. STEFFENS carried away many minor awards. Last June she was awarded a refrigerator worth $260 for writing 25 words concerning a soap product and a $50 prize was given her by a local beverage company for a written statement.

The past few months she has won five prizes in a local contest embodying suggestions for the perfect wife or husband, and now working on a General Motors contest.

HOPES TO WRITE

"Of course I lose more than I win," Mrs. Crane stated, "but persistence wins, and I've found that simplicity and originality count most when judges select entries." Mrs. Crane has been attending the jaysee for three years in order to study creative writing, as she hopes to break into the writing field.—AUDREE WILLSEY
